A leap beyond boundaries

NIBE-SW International Financial Academy is the combined result of all NIBE-SW international activities. IFA contributes to a stable economy and prosperity. As a knowledge institute of and for the financial sector, IFA feels that its task and responsibility is to make its expertise available to developing countries and emerging markets. IFA boasts many years of experience, expertise and an expansive network. This availability of expertise and experience ensures that IFA is always able to find a suitable solution.

Sustainable contribution

We have learned that proper performance of the financial sector is essential to a prosperous society. Prosperity that everyone participates in. Financial professionals taking themselves, their profession and their customers seriously provide a crucial and sustainable contribution to their society's prosperity.

Capacity development

Capacity development is important for assisting individuals, organisations and countries to reinforce their capability of executing tasks. IFA provides capacity development for training institutes within the financial sector.

Reinforcing the financial sector with knowledge and skills will stimulate employment and a country's economic prosperity. IFA boasts extensive experience in assisting foreign training institutes and training employees by means of:

- Assistance of training departments
- Training of financial trainers
- Instructional design
- Exam development

Why accreditation

How do we know if a learning programme actually achieves what it claims to achieve? In order to create confidence, IFA aims to support educational quality by means of accreditation.

The international standards that IFA applies in the accreditation guarantee that learning programmes are evaluated or tested on an equal basis throughout the world. This instigates confidence in the equivalence of certificates in any country. IFA is able to assess training programmes of other educational institutions upon request.

Knowledge expands

Life-long learning is required to keep up to date in this dynamic field. Knowledge, after all, is synonymous with quality. This is what discerns people, companies and organisations in our sector.

IFA provides you with a full range of products, containing practical expertise and guaranteeing a sustainable and successful career. Thanks to our extensive experience and the range of 200 training courses in the Dutch market, this is possible in all specialist fields within the financial sector. In addition to in-company training, we offer self-study packages. After all, developing your knowledge is our strength.
